Rally Against "Aggression" Called In Cuba

Anti-American Demonstration Set For Today

HAVANA (AP)—The pro-government press and radio Sunday summoned Cubans to a massive rally Monday to protest "foreign aggression," a cold reference to the United States.

Prime Minister Fidel Castro, beset by the gravest crisis in his 10 months of power, originally called the rally to protest "aerial attacks against national territory."

But as sound trucks blared through the streets and radio broadcasts called on the people to rally, the theme was switched to "foreign aggression."

The Cuban Labor Confederation prepared more than a million badges reading "against foreign aggression" to be distributed when demonstrators begin assembling at the presidential palace Monday.

Joining in the call for at least a million Cubans to turn out, the confederation has ordered a general work shutdown for noon to give workers a chance to attend to Havana. The shutdown applies to Havana and three neighboring provinces.

The Cuban people "will ask for the firing squad against aggressors," declared the pro-government newspaper La Calle. This raised the possibility that military tribunals may be brought back in the campaign against Castro's enemies.

The aggression charge is an apparent allusion to what Castro claims are bombings and strafing by planes manned by "war criminals" based in the United States. U.S. authorities here have said they have found no evidence of any bombing or strafing although light planes have been heckling Havana with leaflet-dropping missions.

Two light planes flew daring leaflet missions over Havana again Saturday night. One plane even dumped leaflets on military headquarters in the eastern outskirts of this capital.

Police Saturday night broke up a demonstration by a crowd carrying placards calling for the execution of Maj. Hubert Matos, his staff officers, and the detected air force chief, Maj. Pedro Luis Diaz Lanz.

Matos precipitated the crisis by refusing to accompany commander in Camaguey province, saying he was called in government. His staff supported him.

Cubans Fire On American, Wife

HAVANA (AP)—An American was injured slightly Sunday after he inadvertently drove his car through an ambush set up by Cuban sailors disguised as peasants, police said. The sailors were expecting a light plane to land on the dark highway outside Havana.

Patrick Kinney, 28, of Absarokee, Mont., an employee of a local steel-processing company, and his wife were fired on after four men tried to flag them down with waving arms and blinking flashlights.

A spokesman at Cotorro police headquarters, where the Kinneys went for first aid, said the sailors first fired in the air and then at the car when it failed to stop.

The incident occurred on a dark highway 11 miles from the center of Havana in an area of tension over frequent night flights of unidentified aircraft.

Kinney was cut by glass splinters and treated at a hospital. His wife, although uninjured, reportedly suffered shock.

He made a formal complaint at police headquarters. The U.S. Embassy, which also received a report, said it is investigating.

Khrushchev Home After Romania Trip

Premier Returns For Parliament's Opening Tuesday

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev returned Sunday from a surprise trip to Romania, apparently refreshed and ready for important cold war policy statements when Parliament opens this week.

His previously unannounced six-day visit to Romania was described as a short vacation by Tass, the official news agency. The Premier has been on the go almost constantly since his U.S. visit.

Khrushchev's last reported public engagement in Moscow was Oct. 16, shortly after his return from Red China and a barnstorming tour of Siberia. He flew to Romania Oct. 19 at the invitation of the Romanian government.

He toured the Romanian countryside accompanied by party leader Gheorghe Gheorgiu-Dej, Premier Chivu Stoica and President Ion Gheorghe Maurer.

Moscow radio said there were talks as well as sightseeing and these "took place in an exceptionally warm and cordial atmosphere."

On his visit to Peiping for Red China's 10th birthday celebration and on his Siberian tour, Khrushchev proclaimed the policy of peaceful settlement of international disputes that he and President Eisenhower enunciated after their talks in the United States.

Parliament opens Tuesday, offering Khrushchev another opportunity to make an important statement on the relaxation of international tensions. He is expected to report on both his visits to the United States and Peiping in a foreign policy address.

Ill Girl To Get Transfusions If Necessary

DETROIT (AP)—An 11-year-old girl will undergo exploratory brain surgery Monday and get blood transfusions if necessary despite her mother's belief that such transfusions are "against the will of God."

Carol Krumm was made a ward of Juvenile Court last week in order for surgery to be conducted to determine if she has a brain tumor.

The girl's mother, Doris Krumm of suburban Berkley, a member of Jehovah's Witnesses, said she was not against surgery but the possibility that Carol might require blood transfusions. She said she believed this would violate a "scriptural prohibition against 'eating' of blood.

Dr. H. Harvey Gass said he could not operate under such conditions and asked that the court step in.

Mrs. Krumm said, "I have been trying unsuccessfully to locate a doctor who will use a substitute for real blood in the operation. I examined my conscience. Carol is my daughter and her life is precious to me. But I cannot go counter to the will of God. I can understand the concern of the doctor. I only hope someone will understand my feelings."

Mother Learns Family Dead

Mrs. Frank Espinola is comforted by her father, John Shepherd (left) as she learned her husband and five of their six children had perished from carbon monoxide fumes in their Chelsea, Mass., home yesterday. She was confined to a hospital and a sixth child was being cared for by relatives when the tragedy occurred. Police say the victims died from the fumes from a defective hot water heater. The children ranged in age from 5 to 14 years.

President Ends Golfing Holiday At Augusta, Ga.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower returned to the White House Sunday after a five-day golfing holiday at the Augusta, Ga., National Golf Club.

The President, who flew to Augusta last Wednesday, took off from his vacation spot at 3:39 p.m. e.s.t. for the flight back to Washington. A crowd of several thousand persons, the largest ever to turn out to see the President there, was on hand to watch his departure.

Eisenhower, obviously delighted by the throng, turned away from his plane and walked toward the crowd to wave a farewell.

The President's plane arrived back in Washington at 5:31 p.m. e.s.t. He went directly to the White House.

The President might have prolonged his first three days there because his stay in Augusta because his first three days there were marred by rain. But he had to return to the capital because he plays host Monday to the visiting president of the African state of Guinea, Sekou Toure.

The temperature was in the high 60's in Augusta with a high overcast and a brisk breeze. The President wore a light combination top coat - rain coat and a brown hat. He appeared to be in excellent spirits.

Eisenhower's lingering cold seemed to have suffered little as a result of the rain. He played golf twice in intermittent showers, but Saturday the long-delayed sun broke through a heavy overcast and Eisenhower played 36 holes, two full regulation rounds.

The President had two major problems awaiting him in Washington—the steel strike and the continuing negotiations between the allies on the best time for a major summit meeting with Soviet Russia. Eisenhower may get new information shortly on prospects for a pre-summit meeting before the end of this year.

Man Shoots Ex-Wife, Husband And Himself

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (AP)—A Cheyenne carpenter, John Murphy, 40, who wounded his former wife and her husband Saturday, was found Sunday with a bullet wound in the head in a field four miles northwest of Cheyenne.

Sheriff Norbert E. Tuck said an employee at the John Bell ranch found Murphy in the field. The sheriff said Murphy had shot himself between the eyes with a 22-caliber pistol.

He was taken to a hospital where he regained consciousness. His condition was reported as fair. His only comment, officers said, was, "I'm sorry you didn't find me last night."

The two victims of Saturday night's shooting were reported in good condition. They are expected to make complete recoveries.

They are Geraldine Lenburg, 38, and her husband, Virgil, 39. Both were shot twice.

Snowstorm Buffets Upper Great Lakes

Rains Touch Off New England Slides

By The Associated Press

Heavy, slushy snow belted the northern Great Lakes states with the season's first wintry onslaught Sunday and torrential rains in New England touched off landslides, washouts and flash floods.

Snowfall measured 10 inches at Crandon in Wisconsin's Rhineland resort area and 8 inches at Marquette, Mich., on Lake Superior near Keweenaw Bay, Mich. The soggy snow and freezing weather made driving treacherous in upper Michigan peninsula and snapped overhead telephone lines.

New England battled back from torrential weekend rains which dumped as much as five inches of water on some areas. Unofficial estimates placed the damage at hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Six deaths were attributed to the New England weather—five in highway accidents and the sixth at sea. Washouts ripped roads and cabins were ruined. Some telephone lines were knocked out.

An avalanche of giant rocks and earth tumbled down in New Hampshire's White Mountains, blocking the main route between Boston and Canada with 28 feet of rubble. Scene of the landslide was Franconia Notch, near the famous Old Man of the Mountains, a natural stone image.

Several bridges were swept away in the New Hampshire mountains and washouts closed scenic Crawford and Pinkham notches in the White Mountains.

Surgings rivers began to recede Sunday, but several communities still were in trouble.

Plymouth, N.H., a town of 3,039 was virtually isolated and 30 families were evacuated from their homes when the Pemigewasset River rose 10 feet above normal. Another 150 families were evacuated at Mexico, Maine, where the Androscoggin River jumped its banks under five inches of rain.

Swift Workers Vote Strike End

CHICAGO (AP)—Nearly 18,000 meat-packing employees, idled seven weeks by a strike, have voted to return to work at 37 Swift & Co. plants Monday, a union spokesman announced.

The spokesman said Sunday locals of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen and the United Packinghouse Workers of America voted Friday, Saturday and Sunday to ratify a tentative agreement reached Thursday night.

The agreement calls for wage increases ranging from 8 1/2 to 15 cents an hour over a two-year period plus improved fringe benefits. Ratification was announced jointly in a statement issued by Thomas Lloyd, Amalgamated president, and Ralph Helstein, UPWA chief.

A third union, the National Brotherhood of Packinghouse Workers, also signed a two-year contract with Swift. This union, representing 6,000 workers in seven plants, had not struck.

The UPWA and AMCU went out Sept. 4 when the company balked at signing a new contract along lines already agreed upon by the unions and Armour & Co. and other major packers.

Benson In Hospital For Observation

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson, a patient at Walter Reed Army Hospital, was reported feeling better Sunday.

Benson went to the hospital Saturday after he experienced abdominal pains. An aide reported Sunday the pain was less, but that the doctors planned to keep Benson there for several days, for observation.

Father, Five Children Die From Fumes

CHELSEA, Mass. (AP)—A groundskeeper at Boston's American League baseball park and five of his children were found dead in their home Sunday.

Police said death was due to carbon monoxide fumes from a defective heater used to warm water for the children's Saturday night baths.

A sixth child was being cared for by relatives while the mother, Marguerita, 44, was in a hospital for treatment of varicose veins.

The dead are Frank Espinola, 60, and Donald, 14; Nancy, 12; Joseph, 9; Philip, 7; and Kenneth, 5.

The bodies were found by Frederick Sheppard of Medford who went to the Espinola home after Mrs. Espinola called him from the hospital. She became alarmed when she received no response to a phone call to her husband for transportation home.

Young Gunman Kills Sister, 14, Battles Police

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—"I got kind of nervous. So I went and got the shotgun, shot Gwen and took off."

James Vogel, 17, gave this explanation Sunday for killing his young sister during an argument over who should sit in an easy chair in front of the family television set.

Vogel fled into the street and wounded a policeman and a young woman passerby with the shotgun before he was captured Saturday night in a city park after a gun battle with pursuing police.

Vogel's sister, Gwendolyn, 14, was killed by two shotgun blasts as she sat in the disputed chair in front of the TV set. The blasts were fired from a staircase in the Vogel home.

"I aimed at Gwen's head and pulled the trigger," police said Vogel told them. "Then I heard her scream so I reloaded and shot her again."

Mary Elaine Root, 22, of Appleton, Wis., was wounded in the face and neck by shotgun pellets when Vogel fired at her as he ran from the house. She was standing across the street with two other persons who were not hurt.

The youth then ran to the nearby park. He began firing as 15 policemen closed in on him. The officers returned the shotgun fire with their revolvers. Vogel had to reload each time as he fired, but he did it so quickly that one officer said, "We thought it was an automatic rifle he was firing he was shooting so fast."

Patrolman Charles Anderson, 25, was wounded slightly by pellets in the face and right leg. Anderson was lying on the ground, out of ammunition, when Vogel ordered him to stand.

"I knew it was him or me," Anderson said, "so I stood up and tossed my revolver at him. When he ducked I jumped him."

The revolver apparently struck Vogel's shotgun as he fired and the charge passed over Anderson's head. The officer threw Vogel to the ground. Other policemen rushed up and subdued the youth who continued to struggle violently until he reached the police station.

Two Face Execution

BAGHDAD, Iraq (AP)—A Baghdad court Saturday sentenced two persons to death on the gallows for killing and dragging a man through the streets during the Kirkuk rebellion last July.

After Sunday's negotiations here, reports spread that the industry was ready to submit a new wage proposal to the union.

"Marshal Dillon's" Wife Slashes Wrists

HONOLULU (AP)—The wife of James Arness, TV's Marshal Dillon of "Gunsmoke," slashed her wrists with a razor blade Saturday, complaining that Arness was cold toward her.

Kaiser Hospital reported Sunday her condition was good.

Arness had telephoned from California, telling police that his wife, Virginia, had called him three times and he feared she would attempt suicide.

Police said the 23-year-old woman was found early Saturday in the bathtub of her room in the Royal Hawaiian Hotel bleeding from superficial cuts.

The officers quoted her as saying she was despondent over domestic problems caused by Arness' movie and TV commitments.

Kaiser Steel Ready To Sign Separate Pact

Other Major Firms Say Wage Position Remains Unchanged

By JOHN MOODY

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The steel industry's solid front in the 103-day nationwide steel strike cracked Sunday night when Kaiser Steel Co.—the nation's 12th biggest producer—said it would sign a separate agreement.

Kaiser employs 10,615 of the half-million United Steelworkers now on strike. It produces about 2 per cent of the nation's steel.

The other 11 major steel firms said Kaiser's action will not change their positions—to resist any inflationary wage increase.

Kaiser is one of the industry's Big 12 companies that had been represented in negotiations with the United Steelworkers by a four-man industry negotiating team. The other 11 firms disclosed Kaiser's plans.

The big development in the costly dispute came amid reports that the industry was preparing to make new money concessions to the union in an effort to reach agreement.

Negotiations Continue

Top level negotiators met here Saturday and Sunday and scheduled another session for Monday.

Separate meetings between 95 companies and the union also are planned Monday.

The industry said Kaiser was prepared to sign a labor agreement that would cost the other big companies 45 to 50 cents per man hour over a three-year period. Industry offers have been far below this figure.

Kaiser estimated the agreement it is about to sign would cost it about 10 cents per man-hour during the first year. Kaiser's plant is in Fontana, Calif.

It could not be learned immediately where the Kaiser-Union negotiations were carried on or where the contract would be signed.

USW President David J. McDonald was in Pittsburgh Sunday heading the union's four-man team in a negotiation session with the four-man industry team headed by R. Conrad Cooper.

Neither McDonald nor Cooper could be reached immediately for comment.

Break Anticipated

One union spokesman said Kaiser's break with the rest of the industry had been anticipated but added, "It came at a time that surprised many of us."

American Iron and Steel Institute, spokesman for the steel industry, issued a statement saying: "Undoubtedly, this action was dictated by circumstances peculiar to the Kaiser interests which are also engaged in the aluminum industry and which must therefore deal with the steelworker's union as a representative of their employees in both industries."

The companies said the Kaiser agreement: "There are matters of principle with respect to pensions and insurance which are wholly unacceptable to the other steel companies in addition to the cost difference."

The other companies said the package that Kaiser estimated would cost 10 cents the first year would cost the big firms about 17 cents in the first year of any such agreement.

After Sunday's negotiations here, reports spread that the industry was ready to submit a new wage proposal to the union.

Director Sees Demo Advisory Council's Influence Growing

WASHINGTON (AP) — The times the size of the national Democratic Advisory Council will have more and more influence on party thinking as the 1960 convention nears, in the opinion of Charles Tylor II, its executive director.

Tylor said in an interview Sunday that the council, formed 2½ years ago as an adjunct of the Democratic National Committee, will probably survive even if the Democrats win the presidency next year.

Its primary function, however, is to be a national voice for the party when there is a Republican president.

What started out as a 23-member body to formulate policies and programs in between party conventions has now grown to a 28-member group plus advisory and administrative committees running its total personnel to 176, including a farm unit now being formed. This is more than 1½

Free At 90, Old Rascal Has Last Laugh At Judge

SWANSEA, Wales (AP)—A self-confessed old rascal of 90 had the last laugh Sunday at a British judge who jailed him eight years ago, apparently for the rest of his natural life.

Because nobody expected Morgan Morgan—a name as Welsh as they come—to survive a 10-year term.

But with remission of sentence for good behavior, he's a free man again—and he's very much alive.

Morgan Morgan was a Welshman whose record ranks with the longest and least successful in the annals of British crime. He first went to jail for 14 days in 1884 when he was 15 for stealing two lumps of coal.

He went on to five major sentences and a string of minor ones—interrupted only by voluntary service with the British army in the Boer War and World War I. His career spanned the reigns of six sovereigns and it looked never-ending.

But his last court appearance, in 1951, for breaking into a store appeared to have finished him.

"You must go to jail 10 years," intoned the judge. "This I'm afraid is going to be your last innings."

Morgan Morgan shifted his old bones toward the cells and muttered defiantly: "My lord, I'll beat you yet."

In an old folks institution at this Welsh port Sunday, Morgan Morgan recalled his lordship's words with a chuckle.

"Well I'm out," he said. "I've always been a model prisoner and that's why. No point in fretting after a fair cop"—which is a British expression for being caught red-handed.

Mental Hospital Escapees Nabbed

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Three mental patients who escaped from Atascadero State Hospital, were recaptured Sunday when their stolen car crashed after a 100-mile-an-hour chase on a freeway.

Two of the fugitives were thrown from the car. The driver was pinned in the wreckage.

Taken to General Hospital in serious condition were Robert C. Ayaya, 22, and Joaquin Lopez, 35, the driver, Leroy Tapia, 25, who was in the rear seat, received minor cuts and bruises.

They were among seven inmates who sawed their way out of the hospital Friday. Two others were recaptured near the hospital and a third surrendered in San Luis Obispo Sunday morning. The seventh man is still at large.

Accardo, Police Pal In Milan

MILAN, Italy (AP) — Anthony (Tony) Accardo, of the Chicago underworld, and Anthony De Grazio, his police lieutenant pal, pulled into town Sunday night.

They gave Italian newsmen, meeting them at the Milan railroad station, a stony look which said: "We ain't talking."

Newsman tried repeatedly to ask De Grazio what he thought about his suspension from the Chicago police force because of his friendship with Accardo. De Grazio just glared.

In Zurich earlier, when the two Tonys and their wives boarded the train for Milan, De Grazio was a bit more talkative when asked about his suspension.

"Tell them to go to hell," he told a reporter.

In Milan, Accardo and De Grazio hustled their attractive—and silent—wives out of the railroad station and into a taxi. Reporters couldn't learn where the four were going.

They are on a tour of Europe which so far has taken them to London, Paris, Zurich and now Milan.

Accardo, who came to fame as a muscleman in the Al Capone era and has a police record dating back to 1923, now lives in a mansion in one of Chicago's finer suburbs.

Ship Carrying Cargo Of Matches Afire

ESBJERG, Denmark (AP)—The Belgian freighter Belgia, was reported speeding through stormy seas Sunday night toward the Danish west coast with a fire in one of her holds. A distress message said the 1,496-ton vessel is carrying a cargo of matches.

Blaavand radio said the ship was about 60 miles west of Esbjerg when the fire broke out. All ships nearby were asked to go to the Belgia.

Wiretap Bans Ignored, Study Shows

NEW YORK (AP)—Wiretapping of them illegal. —by police, district attorneys and private eyes — continues despite squad uses wiretaps in vice cases, vate cases.

He said a Chicago city police district attorney after a 16-month Illinois study.

Financed by the Fund for the Republic, the $50,000 study probed electronic eavesdropping practices in 10 states. The results will be published in book form Monday by the Rutgers University Press as "The Eavesdroppers," by Samuel Dash, former Philadelphia district attorney.

Dash said he found that "no prohibition against wiretapping has worked." He studied states that forbid wiretapping altogether and states that allow it under some circumstances, and found that regulations are not followed, despite police protests to the contrary.

He estimated that the New York City Police Department makes about 30,000 wiretaps a year, most ping and thus have to permit the same operators to wiretap in private cases.

In San Francisco, Boston, and Chicago, Dash said, the police hire private detectives to do wiretap.

Socialite's Death Probed

GENOA CITY, Wis. (AP)—Socially prominent Virginia Kraft Dore, 39, was found asphyxiated in her bedroom Saturday night above a garage in which the motor of one automobile was running and the ignition switch of another car turned on.

A coroner's inquest was ordered to determine cause of the death of Mrs. Dore who was married Sept. 5 this year to Francis E. Dore, vice president of Stevens Candy Kitchens, Inc., Chicago.

Deputy Sheriff William Carr of Kenosha County said in his report that Mrs. Dore was found lying on her bed in the fume-filled bedroom.

Mrs. Dore was manager of Honey Bear Farm, nationally known country dining place. The Dore home is on the farm's spacious, park-like grounds.

According to Carr's report, Mrs. Dore attended the Ohio State-Wisconsin football game at Madison in the afternoon with her husband and another couple but returned home by herself early.

World Fund Asks Break For Dollar

WASHINGTON (AP) — The International Monetary Fund told the free world Sunday it's time to give the dollar an even break.

The executive directors of the fund said very few nations can legitimately claim they must restrict imports of American goods in order to safeguard their reserves of gold and dollars.

Existing restrictions must be eliminated with all feasible speed, they said.

In this formal policy statement, the fund chiefs echoed their managing director, Per Jacobsson, who said last month that the day of the worldwide dollar shortage is now history.

The postwar dollar gap caused many nations to curb imports from dollar areas. In the past two years, however, these countries have increased their financial reserves and, in most cases, have been able to make their currencies convertible into dollars in international trade.

Murder Indictment Against Motherwell To Be Sought Today

California D. A. Admits It's Tough Case

DOWNIEVILLE, Calif. (AP)—country have pieced together this In the summer of 1958, a lonely, chronology of the case: June 28, 1958 — Motherwell, D. C., vanished while on a last, made arrangements to store Mrs. Putney's furniture and belongings in Washington. She moved from her apartment that day.

Monday, her weathered skull and whitened bones will be the state evidence by which the principal evidence by which the state seeks a murder indictment against the 43-year-old itinerant construction man who admittedly chauffeured Mrs. Pearl Putney to California. The remains were found accidentally in a gloomy room on the High Sierra last summer.

Dental work gave positive identification of the skull as that of the 72-year-old widow of an American University professor. The manner and time of death are unknown.

Smith said he doesn't have to show concrete evidence that Mrs. Putney was murdered.

"All I have to do to get a grand jury indictment is prove through circumstantial evidence that Mrs. Putney did not die a natural death," he said. "It's tough, but it can be done."

Motherwell has pleaded innocent. He insists he left Mrs. Putney in Las Vegas, Nev., in mid-August 1958.

River Search Fails To Locate Suicide's Body

WASHINGTON (AP)—A search of the Potomac River rapidly failed Sunday to locate the body of a Central Intelligence Agency employee believed drowned Saturday in what his wife described to police as a suicide pact.

Police and firemen from Fairfax County, Va., and Montgomery County, Md., dragged both sides of the rocky stretch of river at Great Falls, 12 miles above Washington, without finding James A. Woodbury, 32.

Mrs. Woodbury, 32, rescued from a rocky ledge to which she had been swept by the swirling water, told police she and her husband jumped in together, hand in hand, because of the pressure of his work. She was under observation in Arlington Hospital, where authorities said she was unharmed but emotionally disturbed.

Neighbors said the Woodburys and their two boys, Jeff, 10, and Parris, 8, returned only a month ago from a two-year tour of duty in Germany.

Conference Of Radio Engineers To Open

BALTIMORE (AP)—Space age talk will be common at a conference to be held here Monday through Wednesday.

It will be the sixth annual East Coast Conference on Aeronautical and Navigational Electronics, Institute of Radio Engineers.

Among those presenting papers will be 16 engineers of the Martin Co. Subjects will include such topics as simplification of orbit characteristics, a velocity tracking communication system and electronic equipment for space suits.

Freak Fatal Accident

MARTINSBURG, W. Va. (AP)—A 24-year-old Martinsburg man crashed into a utility pole Saturday and was thrown from his car. The impact snapped a power line, which fell and electrocuted him. The victim was Jack DuBose. He was riding alone when his car went out of control and the freak accident occurred.

Suspect Kills Self

BALTIMORE (AP)—A holdup suspect who shot himself when surrounded by stalking police died Saturday rather than give himself up. Robert Preston, 28, Negro, was trapped on an upper floor of a house last Thursday night. He fired at surrounding police. Officers yelled to him that they would release a police dog unless he surrendered. He shot himself instead.

Heavy Rain Brings High Water To Ft. Ashby Area

FORT ASHBY — Undetermined property damage was caused over the weekend when high water produced by heavy rains forced small streams out of their banks in this area.

Yesterday Pattersons Creek was still over West Virginia Route 28 for a distance of 300 yards in the direction of Fort Ashby from the south end of the Fort Ashby bridge.

GOV. J. MILLARD TAWES

Kitzmiller Lions Honor Governor At Dinner Tonight

KITZMILLER—Gov. J. Millard Tawes will be an honored guest and principal speaker at a meeting of the Kitzmiller Lions Club at a dinner meeting here this evening at 6:30 o'clock in the school building.

L. C. Hutson, publicity committee chairman for the club said the governor, Louis Goldstein, state comptroller and Thomas B. Finan, secretary of state will also be guests, with Mr. Finan serving as master of ceremonies.

Mr. Hutson said the Lions club is sponsoring this affair as a means of recognizing the interest shown and the work done by Governor Tawes and other officials in obtaining funds for a flood control project here.

Each member of the club has been authorized to invite one guest to the affair which will include a dinner, program and entertainment featuring the Allegheny Folk Dance Group.

Tri Towns Area Plans Halloween Revue Thursday

WESTERNPORT—The annual Halloween parade will be held Thursday under sponsorship of Victory Post 155, American Legion, and the Blue Angels Drum and Bugle Corps at 7:30 p.m. Mums will march from the upper end of Main Street to the interstate bridge, cross into Piedmont and parade down Ashfield to Third Streets there, to Green and to Second Streets and return to Westernport.

Thirty-five silver dollars will be awarded the best masked children under 14 years of age in the parade. Prize money will be distributed at the public square here.

Leading the parade will be the Bruce High School band. Other units taking part will be the VFW drill team from Mt. Savage, Fulton Myers Drum Corps of Cumberland; the Blue Angels Drum Corps, Potomac Fire Company, Tri-Towns Fire Company and Kanawha Tribe, Degree of Hiawatha.

Judges of the parade will be Mrs. Virgil Raines, Russell Miller, Mrs. Josephine McBee and Mrs. Allen Elliott. Four $5 prizes will be awarded to the best masked adults at the dance which will be held at the Legion Home beginning at 9 p.m. Les Clifford's orchestra will provide music.

Citations will be awarded to the students who sold over $25 worth of subscriptions. Andrea Bowden, seventh grade home rooms,

Ben Evans, Donna Thomas, Sally Evans, Robert Hamilton, Greg Getty, Hugh Tennent, Shirley Moore and Charles T. Lamberson qualified for this honor.

Home Room 124, Mrs. Elizabeth M. Cooper's, was highest room winner; Home Room 202, Charles L. Gillis', was second highest room winner. Mrs. Cooper and Mr. Gillis both have seventh grade home rooms.

Officials Urge SRC To Link Routes 40-50

Other Proposals Aired At Meeting In Garrett County

OAKLAND — Improvement of a north-south route connecting Routes 40 and 50 that runs through Garrett county was proposed by Garrett County officials at a meeting Saturday with the State Roads Commission in the William James Hotel, Oakland.

The Garrett county group urged the SRC to improve the connecting roads in the route so that it could handle heavy truck traffic.

This would, they said, offer better opportunities for developing the assets of the county, and would serve as an inducement for industry.

Bridges Proposed

Garrett and Allegany County officials also proposed these projects:

Improvement of Route 219 from Route 40 to Deep Creek Lake.

Speed up of improvement of Route 40 from the Washington county line through Allegany and Garrett counties to the Pennsylvania line.

New bridges at Pinto and Wiley Ford over the Potomac River.

Lewis Hutson, Kitzmiller, made the proposal for the north-south route connecting the two major routes, 40 and 50, in behalf of the Garrett county group.

It would include these roads: Leaving Route 40 at Markleysburg and take State Route 42 to Friendsville, Route 53 from Friendsville to U. S. Route 219 at Hoyes, Route 219 from Hoyes to just south of Deep Creek Lake, State Route 38 through Deer Park to Kitzmiller, and State Route 42 to Elk Garden and then to the top of Allegheny Front.

He pointed out that trucks could avoid the treacherous descent off Allegheny Front by going to Mt. Storm and then south on State Route 42 to Scherr and Petersburg.

Make Tour Of County After the discussion on the various requests the State Roads Commission, the members of the staff who attended, and Garrett county officials toured Garrett county.

Representing Allegany County at the session were John J. Rowan, president of the board of county commissioners; and Delegates Thomas F. Conlon Jr. and William Walsh.

From Garrett county were Del. Leslie Savage, Del. Elbert Buckel and Senator Bernard I. Gonder, and County Commissioners Carl Schell, Fred Glatfelter and Elra Garlett; Darrell Wotring, supervisor, and Paul DeWitt, assistant supervisor, of the Garrett County Road Department, Hutson, and Joseph Fahey and Thomas Bender, Grantsville.

Members of the SRC staff attending were A. S. Gordon, executive assistant to the director; Mrs. Virginia L. Packard, chairman of appointments; Leroy C. Moser, right-of-way engineer; George M. Lewis Jr., director of traffic engineering; Norman F. Pritchett, chief engineer; Joseph L. Wannon, chief planner; Carl E. Buscher, special assistant attorney general assigned to the SRC; Robert Hajduk, William Jabine, William Bender and Miss Ann Stickles, staff members; Lewis J. O'Donnell, chief administrative officer; George Geary, acting district engineer for Allegany, Garrett and Washington counties; Henry Fredericks, district right-of-way engineer; Southern Nottingham, federal aid engineer; Carl Roland, of the department of planning and programming, David Fisher, administrative engineer, C. R. Pease, commission secretary.

All members of the State Roads Commission, headed by John B. Funk, chairman and director, participated in the conference and tour.

Little Pills Are Big Business

With government and medical authorities speaking up against the public's waste in expenditures for vitamin pills, diets and vibrators, it is interesting to learn many old-time remedies — the patent medicines — that have experienced similar disfavor are still recording sales volumes.

A Wall Street Journal survey reveals that sales of proprietary drugs — those which can be sold by druggists without prescriptions — are keeping pace fairly well with U. S. population gains. The total value of such sales last year was $1.5 billion, compared to $850 million in 1949.

Much of the current sales success of the remedies grandmother knew is credited to modern handling. Many original companies marketing the old standbys have ceased to operate — at least as independents. Their formulae are bought up by larger and more aggressive concerns (one big firm currently is trying to round up some 100 old elixirs and nostrums) and modern sales techniques are counted on to yield hefty revenues.

The formulae remain essentially the same — only the claims are different. Government authorities have clamped down on such sweeping pronouncements as a "sure cure for any ill of man or beast."

Credit much of the present popularity of old remedies to modern promotion. And credit more to the beneficial properties some of the offerings probably have. But save some credit for family tradition. "Mothers do tell daughters, you know," one druggist said.

Tradition? How else can one druggist's testimony that he still has an active seasonal demand for sulphur and molasses be explained?

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky
Lyndon Johnson

Among the Democrats, candidates are numerous. This is not unusual for a party out of office and was so when the Republicans were out of office. Today, the Republicans limit themselves to two aspirants, the Vice President, Richard Nixon, and the Governor of New York State, Nelson Rockefeller.

The Democrats of Texas, led by the Speaker of the House of Representatives, Sam Rayburn, have launched Lyndon Johnson, the leader of the Democrats in the Senate, as a candidate. It is to be noted that the A.D.A., the Americans for Democratic Action, do not name Johnson as among those whom they support. No greater compliment can be paid to any Democratic candidate today. It was surprising that they included Stuart Symington in their list of favored Senators. This is most unfortunate for the Missouri Senator, whom many Democrats have heretofore favored.

Lyndon Johnson represents the responsibility for the conduct of the Democratic Party during the past six years. Some speak of Adlai Stevenson as the titular head of the Democratic Party because he was twice defeated for the Presidency, the last candidate usually being so regarded. Others speak of Harry Truman as the titular head of the Democratic Party because he was its last President and is so respected by most Democrats. Paul Butler, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, has been asserting a kind of leadership unusual in that position.

Actually, two men have led the Democratic Party and have assumed responsibility for its record during the Eisenhower Administration. They are speaker Sam Rayburn and Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson. Whatever the Democrats have accomplished, these men have done in Congress.

Lyndon Johnson has had a long experience in the legislative branch of government. Fifty-one years old, he started as a school teacher in Houston, Texas. He became secretary to Representative Richard M. Kleberg of Texas. He then was elected to the House of Representatives from Johnson City, Texas in 1937 and has remained in Congress ever since. He was elected Senator in 1948.

Both as minority and majority leader of the Senate, Lyndon Johnson has established himself as an extraordinarily capable official, sound of judgment, broad in perspective, able to support a Republican President in the national interest. In a word, this is a strong man. At a period when this country is weak in leadership, it is sound to have on both the Republican and Democratic sides, strong men whose experience has been in government and who are able to carry on.

Every American boy is told, I suppose, that he might, if he is a good boy, some day become President of the United States. Actually most men could not fill the Presidency. In fact, most of the candidates and prospective candidates now milling about reading ghost-written speeches, could not fill the office. Most of them are by training and temperament unsuited to handle the complicated administrative problems which now face an American President.

This cannot be said of Lyndon Johnson who has been in a position to assist the President of the United States to carry through a heavy program in the face of the Russian menace and at a time when both houses of Congress are Democratic and the Presidency is held by a Republican. President Eisenhower was saved from the disaster which befell the Hoover Administration because a Democratic Congress was willing to co-operate with him. This was accomplished by Lyndon Johnson in the national interest.

The campaign is heating up in both parties. The Democrats face the major difficulty that they are a divided party, the A.D.A. cutting quite a swath, supporting three candidates, Hubert Humphrey, John Kennedy and Stuart Symington. Perhaps they support Symington but he does not support them. However that may be, the country is turning conservative which seems to be the fashion these days and an A.D.A. endorsement can hurt.

In New York State, for instance, the Democrats are being driven into factions by the activities of Eleanor Roosevelt, Herbert Lehman, and Thomas Finletter who are promoting a liberal opposition to Carmine DeSapio in the interest of the candidacy of Adlai Stevenson. In the first skirmish, the Roosevelt-Lehman faction lost. They may lose the battle. The danger is that they may split the party permanently between Democrats and A.D.A. adherents. It could hurt seriously.

A Long Backward Step In The United Nations

WASHINGTON — It was a setback for moral force and the cause of idealism in the world when Great Britain, France, Belgium and 23 other members of the United Nations formally "abstained" from voting on the resolution which, in effect, condemned the Communist regime of China for its "aggressions" against the fundamental human rights of the people of Tibet.

The resolution itself was passed by a vote of 45 to 9, and it is to the everlasting credit of the United States and most of the Latin-American countries that a majority was obtained. But the victory for freedom and humanitarianism was clouded by the "abstentions" in the voting.

Naturally, the Soviet bloc furnished the 9 votes in opposition, but the reasons given by some of those governments which didn't vote at all were hardly different from the line of argument offered by the Communist group in the U.N.

The abstaining countries took refuge in a provision of the United Nations Charter which says that "nothing contained in the present Charter shall authorize the United Nations to intervene in matters which are essentially within the domestic jurisdiction of any state."

The resolution itself did not ask the United Nations to "intervene" or to take any action against the Chinese Communist regime. Indeed, it did not even mention Red China, though it was obviously directed against the Peking regime. It merely took cognizance of reports of what has been happening in Tibet and called "for respect for the fundamental human rights of the Tibetan people and for their distinctive cultural and religious life." Thus, it was only the expression of an opinion by the United Nations General Assembly, which is the forum to which all oppressed peoples everywhere look for moral support.

After the Chinese Communists invaded Tibet in 1950, the Peking government made an agreement with the Tibetans which provided for a certain measure of self-government and for the protection of their religious freedom under the Dalai Lama. Even, however, in those cases where nations are not self-governing, the Charter of the United Nations does provide for a certain type of action which was in line with the resolution passed by the U.N. last week. The U.N. Charter in Article 73 says:

"Members of the United Nations which have or assume responsibilities for the administration of territories whose peoples have not yet attained a full measure of self-government recognize the principle that the interests of the inhabitants of these territories are paramount, and accept as a sacred trust the obligation to promote to the utmost, within the system of international peace and security established by the present Charter, the well-being of the inhabitants of these territories, and, to this end, to ensure, with due respect for the culture of the peoples concerned, their political, economic, social, and educational advancement, their just treatment, and their protection against abuses."

The record of the Peking government in Tibet is characterized by cruel treatment of the Tibetan people. Not only has there been a brazen interference with the rights of the Tibetan citizens to choose their own spiritual leaders and their own head of government, but barbarism practiced by the invading troops include wholesale destruction of religious

AUTO PRODUCTION—Economists are shaking their heads over the prospect of increased material and manufacturing costs in the auto industry as the new 1960 models start rolling off assembly lines.

Steel production during any cooling off period of the Taft-Hartley law is expected to be at maximum rates, with the big steel companies paying overtime to keep the mills going at top speed, and selling some kinds of steel at premium prices.

Auto manufacturers, in turn, are expected to work at top speed during this period to produce as many cars as possible before the steel mills close down again, likely at the end of the 80-day period.

This means higher prices for steel, higher labor costs for auto production, and more money to pay interest to banks to finance the huge inventories they may build up.

Some government economists concerned with the cost of living envision a situation which could force auto companies to increase their prices above those announced at the beginning of the 1960 model year.

Blood Test May Spot Future Ulcer Victims

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

The blood pepsinogen test may be a good way to detect potential peptic ulcer victims. High readings have been obtained in those with active as well as healed lesions. In this respect, the test may prove as valuable as the blood cholesterol study in predicting candidates for heart disease, the sugar test for diabetes, and the uric acid level for gout.

For years, the relationship of pepsinogen to peptic ulcer has fascinated Dr. I. Arthur Mirsky of Pittsburgh. He followed the medical course of 4,460 adults over a long period and compared the 2 per cent with the highest concentration of this substance with the 2 per cent having the lowest values. Several in the first group developed ulcer but none in the second. A similar study was done on 1,600 children aged several months to 16 years. Ulcer occurred in approximately 10 per cent of those with high levels. The most prevalent age groups were 4 to 6 and 10 to 14 years.

Blood levels also were taken on 2,073 draftees. Sixty-three of the 300 men with the highest readings were selected for special study, comparing them with 57 who had the lowest. X-ray revealed ulcer in four of the soldiers in the high level group at the beginning of basic training and in five others 2 to 4 months later. None of the low level group developed ulcer.

Where does pepsinogen enter the picture? The ulcer sufferer has a high rate of gastric secretion, whether the ulcer is open or healed. This phase is under the control of the nervous system. Stress and psychological factors make matters worse. The pepsinogen level increases temporarily when healthy individuals become upset or are subjected to strain. We do not know why it remains high in the ulcer group.

Nor do we know why some persons develop ulcer when subjected to stress whereas others become alcoholics or get high blood pressure or nervous breakdowns. Heredity may be the answer. Differences show up early in life. Many ulcer victims have type O blood. Dr. Mirsky found wide variations in the pepsinogen concentration in newborns: time will tell whether those with high levels will develop ulcer in the future.

Dr. Van Dellen will send a leaflet on peptic ulcer if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

Two Army Missile Experts Show Business Acumen In Land Deals

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Gen. John B. Medaris, the Army's space and missile expert who has just tendered his resignation, got himself mixed up in one of the major real estate scandals of the south, now under investigation by housing officials.

The general, together with Gen. John A. Barclay, commander of the Army Ballistic Missile Agency at Huntsville, Ala., were cut in on a land deal which rolled up the huge profit of $140,000 in less than a year. The two generals each invested $5,000, according to the tax stamp: filed officially in Alabama. On this they more than doubled their money, each coming out with a profit of $7,000.

The land involved was a piece of real estate in Etowah County (Gadsden), and the man who engineered the juicy deal was the chief Republican patronage dispenser of Alabama, Carl B. Thomas of Huntsville. Ever since Eisenhower was elected, Thomas, and Claude Vardaman, Republican chairman for Alabama, and representative of the Alabama Power Company, have pretty well dictated who the Eisenhower administration would appoint in Alabama.

Among others they picked C. R. Holliman to be state director of the Federal Housing Administration. He replaced conscientious Carl Wiegand. Shortly after Holliman took office, both Thomas and Vardaman, the two who helped appoint him, began to benefit from the purchase and quickie sale of big housing tracts. The land they bought sold at huge profits for the obvious reason that the buyer was able to get FHA loans.

Amazing FHA Generosity

While other builders were asking for FHA loans on 30 projects and getting scaled to 15, the firm of Folmar and Flinn to whom Vardaman and Thomas sold their land, seemed always able to get FHA loans. FHA director Holliman, who got his job through Thomas and Vardaman, even dished out loans to his friends' favorite company, Folmar and Flinn, at 200 and 300 a clip.

Usually Thomas and Vardaman kept their land about six months, just long enough to benefit by a capital gains tax, and then sold it. Another who profited from these quickie land deals, plus generous FHA loans, was the Republican National Committee-man from Alabama, Marvin Mosteller of Mobile.

In the case of the land deal which helped Generals Medaris and Barclay more than double their money, the land was purchased in December, 1957, by Mrs. Carl Thomas for $35,000. On Dec. 11, the Thomases let General Medaris in for 5 per cent of the over-all deal. The tax stamps show he paid $5,000.

The Thomases then cut General Barclay in for another 5 per cent for $5,000. Others were cut in for similar shares, including Roy L. Stone, chairman of the Madison County Board of Commissioners. About eight months later, Aug. 1, 1958, the land which cost $35,000 was sold to a subsidiary of Folmar and Flinn for $175,000.

Folmar and Flinn were then able to get FHA loans and built 315 homes on the property, of which about 22 have been sold.

The House and Home Finance Agency in Washington has sent two investigators to Alabama to look into the big profits rolled up by big Republicans.

Unhappy Happy Handers

A. B. Chandler, the sometimes slap-happy Governor of Kentucky, has put himself in the weird position of running for President on the Democratic ticket and at the same time snubbing a Democratic political rally at which the nation's No. 1 Democrat, Harry Truman, speaks in favor of the Democratic ticket in Kentucky.

This has brought into the open, for the first time officially, what has been Kentucky's worst-kept secret—namely the hard-and-fast alliance between the Republican party and the happy-go-lucky

Governor who wants to be elected President as a Democrat.

For some weeks there have been telltale signs that the great secret was going to be spilled. When Robert Humphrey, close friend of Governor Chandler's whom Chandler once appointed to the U. S. Senate, became vice chairman of the Democratic Campaign Committee, Happy became most unhappy. He was so unhappy that he fired Humphrey as his administrative assistant.

When Clarence McCreary, a state police officer, showed some interest in the Democratic campaign, he had to resign his job. Any Democrat on the state payroll who was interested in promoting a Democratic victory, it became known, must get off the Chandler administration's payroll.

Later Nick Johnson, a Republican running for state senator, told a Republican organization meeting in Harlan County:

"I've just had breakfast with Governor Chandler who told me to tell you that unless the Republicans work hard he can't put Robeson over."

Robeson is the Republican candidate for Governor. He's running against the man Chandler wants to defeat, Judge Bert Combs, Democrat.

Finally, when it became known that Harry Truman was coming to Paducah to support the Democratic ticket, Happy Chandler became unhappy of all. Happy's Lieutenant Governor, Harry L. Waterfield, alleged Democrat, was to introduce Truman. But Bert Combs, Democratic candidate for Governor, was to introduce Waterfield. At this point, Happy Chandler, the would-be Democratic President, decided that his Lieutenant Governor could not appear on the same platform with the Democratic candidate for Governor to introduce a one-time Democratic President, Mr. Truman. Lt. Gov. Waterfield withdrew.

"The salvation of this state depends on Bert Combs being defeated," wailed the unhappy Happy, as his secret opposition now dropped its cloak of secrecy.

One day later, however, the redoubtable Happy let it be known that he would cross the river into Ohio and run in that Democratic state's primary as a Democrat for President of the USA.

Note—The thing to watch in the coming Kentucky elections is the counting of the ballot boxes in eastern Kentucky where Republicans and Chandler "Democrats" control. They will be very late getting counted until it's seen how many votes are needed to counteract Democratic majorities in the rest of the state.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

By Jim Bishop

The girl sat at the bar crying. She made no sound. The big blue eyes kept blinking the tears off the lower lids. Her slippery feet were on the crung of the next stool, and she crouched over her knees, the black velvet slacks tighter than her skin. Now and then, she ran her hand through the wispy blonde hair. It looked like loose excelsior.

In the back, Detective George Joannides questioned the Greek chef. Joannides has been in the business 35 years. He doesn't look old, but he knows a lot of old ones. The chef was small and slow of mind. He did not comprehend. Sometimes he understood but he gave different answers to the same question.

The juke box played "Mack The Knife." Behind the opaque partition were the booths with the soiled tablecloths, the little cruets of olive oil. Detective Dan Fogerty of the 20th Squad sat in a booth with the manager of The Red Eye. Fogerty is a big man with an Ipana smile. He spends his off-duty hours buying nippies.

He wanted to know about the robbery. The manager shrugged. "I told the cop this morning," he said. Fogerty beamed. "Tell me," he suggested. The manager told the story. The time was 8:30 a.m. The old chef was in the back. Somebody knocked on the front door. He came out. The face on the outside was that of the girl who was now crying.

She wasn't crying then. She smiled at the chef. She asked for a glass of water. When he gave her the glass, she asked for a cigaret. The chef took it from under his long white apron. The chef and the girl went into the kitchen. They were there 20 minutes.

A man came in. He was young and thin. He had a gun. He waved it at the old chef. "Stand there," the holdup man said. "Don't move, pop." The girl and the old man stood quietly. The girl looked frightened. The man with the gun took his time. He carried fifty-seven bottles of whiskey out the front door. It required eight trips.

When he pulled his car away from the curb, the girl tried to get the license. All she saw was a cheap rattletrap and some blue soap. The chef shrugged philosophically. He waited for the boss. Later, police came. Now it was night and two new ones were here.

"All right," Joannides said,

"let's go down to 68th Street and talk. The more I hear this story the more mixed up its gets." He turned to Fogerty. "The chef says he and the girl were just talking. For twenty minutes."

The manager, the old chef and the girl walked up the old creaky staircase in the 24th Precinct. The detective squad room was big and bare, with a few desks and a few phones. It looked like an abandoned booky parlor. Fogerty went into the small office to talk to Lieutenant Jake Nelson. The lieutenant puffed on a pipe. He nodded. Fogerty went out into the squad room. He had a foolscap pad and a pencil. He sat talking to the chef.

Joannides talked to the manager. Nobody talked to the girl. She had stopped crying. She sat primly, the velvet ankles crossing and uncrossing. She smoked chain style. She smiled once. "Boy," she said, "do I need a drink?" The detectives wrote down everything the chef and the manager had to say.

They were sent back to the bar. The girl sat. Nobody asked her anything. At the end of the room was a little cage. They led her to it and put her inside and closed the door. "We're going to dinner," Joannides said. "See you later."

She started to cry again. She smashed the palm of her hand against the cage wire. "I didn't do anything," she said. "Nobody even asks me my name. Let me out of here." The girl worked herself into a frenzy. Once Lieutenant Nelson looked up from his inner office and took the pipe from his mouth. He said nothing. He went back to work.

Other detectives came in. Two had a girl who had been in a street fight. She ripped off her clothes in the squad room and stood rigidly and screamed. The police permitted her to scream. It was quiet and empty again, when Joannides and Fogerty came back. The girl was sitting in the cage against the back wall. They said nothing.

"Please," she begged. "Please talk to me." They shook their heads no. "Please," she whispered. They turned away. "I can solve this thing for you," she shouted. "If you guys weren't so bullheaded, I could tell you something." Joannides shrugged. "You dope," she screamed. "The man with the gun is my boy friend."

Fogerty grinned. "Bring the lady out, George," he said.

First Cross Country Meet Is Scheduled Here Thursday

Three County Schools Enter Beeman's Cindy Is Winner In 11th AKC Field Trial

Two Mile Test Ft. Cumberland Golf Club Course Picked; Meet Starts At 4:15

The first annual Allegany county cross country meet will be held Thursday, October 29 at the Fort Cumberland Golf Club course on Oldtown Road, at 4:15 p. m. it was announced last night by Robert E. Pence, supervisor of physical education for Allegany County public schools.

Allegany, Beall and Fort Hill will enter teams in a varsity interscholastic sport which is new in Allegany county.

Cross country has been added to the athletic program not only because it gives another group of students the opportunity to participate in a varsity sport but also because it is one of the finest developers of strength, stamina, vital organs and general physical fitness.

Teams In Tiptop Shape

Each of three squads have participated in a gradual three-week training period and are in tip-top condition. The running route laid out on the Fort Cumberland course will be two miles in length and will consist of the usual amount of uphill and downhill terrain.

In a practice meet held last week on the Beall High School training course, Allegany showed surprising power and should be considered a slight favorite in Thursday's county championship. Although Fort Hill was only a few points down, Beall has a young squad but still rates an outside chance in the final. Bill Claus of Allegany and Merwin Hast of Fort Hill will be the men to watch as they renew their week-old rivalry. Claus just nipped Hast at the wire in last week's practice engagement.

Low Score Wins

A cross country team consists of seven members but, as in the case of last week's meet, more may be entered by mutual agreement. All competitors who finish the race shall be ranked and tallied in accordance with the position in which they finish. The team score is determined by the total points scored by the first five finishers of each team. The team which scores the smallest number of points is the winner. While the sixth and seventh finishers of a team do not score points toward their teams' total, their places, if better than those of any of the first five of an opposing team, result in an increased score for that team.

Much of the credit for beginning cross country must go to coaches Ronald Chapman of Allegany, Enord "Moose" Arnone of Beall and Charles "Buck" Smith of Fort Hill, whose enthusiasm, promotion and patience have given a successful start to a new program.

Potomac State Tops Montgomery, Hosts Wesley Saturday

Potomac State College continued to cast a spell over gridironers of Montgomery Junior College of Takoma Park, Md., by beating the visitors for the eighth straight time in the Catamounts' homecoming game Saturday at Stayman Field, Keyser. The score was 26-7.

The victory gave Coach Dana "Horse" Lough's team a 3-3 record for the season. The Catamounts host Wesley College of Delaware Saturday, October 31. Stanley Wilamowski, end from Ambridge, Pa., scored two of Potomac's touchdowns on passes in Saturday's game. Sam Fernandez, of Clarkburg, and Bob Sacco, of Hazelton, Pa., made the other tds as the Keyser eleven bagged its second straight victory. Potomac also got two points on a safety.

Montgomery, Wesley and Baltimore Junior College, to be met at Baltimore Nov. 14 are Potomac State College's opponents in the Tri-State Junior College Conference.

Judged Best Of 29; Stover Beagle Is New Field Champ

Hounds from Williamsburg, Pa., and Frostburg were adjudged the winners of the first two events in the Allegany Beagle Club's AKC Licensed Field Trial held yesterday and Saturday at the Barton Dairy Farm, McMullen Highway.

In the opening event of the four-day program, Beeman's Cindy, owned by Allen Beeman, was adjudged the best of 29 entries in the 13 inch female class on Saturday.

It was only the fourth time in 42 events over eleven years that an Allegany-county owned hound was selected as the winner. Previous winners were Dr. H. C. Diehl, Frostburg, in 1950, George Parker, Cumberland, 1952, and Harley Lee, Cresaptown, 1958.

Victor Local Bred

Beeman's Cindy is a local bred hound. Her sire was Frost Place Bishop, formerly owned by John Armstrong of Triple Lakes while her dam was Lee's Little Susie, owned by Harley Lee, of Cresaptown. It marked the second time that Beeman's Cindy had won in an AKC licensed trial. Another win plus 72 points would enable her to become a field champion. Cindy's owner is employed at the Kelly Springfield Tire Company plant.

Tom Moore, of Port Washington, Ohio, handled 12 of the 29 hounds in Saturday's competition and finished second and fourth, respectively, with Mercer's Count Ladie and Fred's Successor, owned by Ohioans.

Elmer Winter of Cresaptown earned next best qualified honors with Winter's Daisy.

Becomes Field Champ A field champion was crowned yesterday when Lock Mountain Deacon, owned by Frank Stover, Williamsburg, Pa., was chosen the best of 21 entries in the 13 inch male class.

It was the third win for Lock Mountain Deacon and upped his total points to 270.

Moore, professional handler, had charge of six of the 21 hounds entered on Sunday but none placed.

Judges on both days were Robert Shockey of Meyersdale, Pa., and John Armstrong of Triple Lakes.

Trial Resumes Today Fifteen inch females will be judged today, commencing at 8 a. m. Judging of 15 inch males is scheduled for Tuesday, final day of the trials.

Summary of events Saturday and Sunday:

13 INCH FEMALES (29 ENTRIES)
1. Beeman's Cindy, Allen Beeman, Frostburg.
2. Mercer's Count Ladie, David Moore, Port Washington, Ohio.
3. Risch's Pride, William Risch, Davisville, Pa.
4. Fred's Successor, Fred Alberini, Warren, Ohio.
5. Next Best Qualified—Winter's Daisy, Elmer Winter, Cresaptown.
13 INCH MALES (21 ENTRIES)
1. Lock Mountain Deacon, Frank Stover, Williamsburg, Pa.
2. Derby, Steve Sell, Roaring Spring, Pa.
3. Leisure Time Pal, Savino Sartoris, Jeannette, Pa.
4. Grapevine Hill Shorty, Howard Sturtevant, Caseville, Pa.
5. Next Best Qualified—Hollis' Sammy, James Hollis, Crucible, Pa.

Late Air Attack Wins For Eagles

Philadelphia Beats Cardinals, 28-24

By JIM KLOBUCHAR MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — The Philadelphia Eagles stormed from 24 points behind to beat the Chicago Cardinals 28-24 Sunday on the second-half aerial offensive of Norm Van Brocklin and Billy Barnes' line blasts.

A crowd of 20,112, attending the first National Football League game played in Minneapolis, watched in near freezing weather as Van Brocklin fired two touchdowns and teamed with Tommy McDonald on a 71-yard play that set up another score.

The payoff was a 22-yard throw from Van Brocklin to McDonald in the end zone that sent Philadelphia into the lead for the first time a little more than three minutes from the finish.

The Eagles' second-half comeback was a stunning turnaround after the Cards frolicked to a 17-0 first half lead and then boosted it to 24-0 in the early moments of the third quarter on Dick (Night Train) Lane's 37-yard runback of an interception.

Van Brocklin found the touch on his long heave to McDonald from the Eagles' 35 on the first play after Lane's touchdown. McDonald sprinted to the 14 and Barnes bowled over from the 1 1/2-yard line a minute later.

Bob Pellegrini intercepted a pass by Chicago's Johnny Roach on the next series and Van Brocklin pitched a 29-yarder to McDonald to make it 24-14.

Another interception, this one by Chuck Weber, put the Eagles in scoring position a few minutes later and Barnes scored in two plays from the 17. He went over from the two.

Philadelphia 28 0 21 7—28 driving rain, whipped Colorado 7 10 7 0—24 State 25-6 in a warmup for next, tonight at 8 o'clock.

SCORES IN AKC TRIAL—Beeman's Cindy, shown with owner Allen Beeman of Frostburg, was judged the best of 29 entries in the 13 inch female class of the eleventh annual American Kennel Club Licensed Field Trial of the Allegany Beagle Club which opened Saturday at the Barton Dairy Farm. Beeman became the fourth Allegany county winner in a total of 42 events staged here since 1949. The others were Harley Lee, Cresaptown in 1958, George Parker, Cumberland, 1952, and Dr. H. C. Diehl, Frostburg, 1950. This was Cindy's second win in an AKC field trial. Mr. Beeman is employed in Department 410 at the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company plant.

Texas, LSU, Wildcats Win But Feel Pressure Growing

Mississippi, Penn State And Syracuse Show Plenty Power

By WILL GRIMSLEY

That grizzled spoiler of gridiron fortunes, Old Man Upset, went on a holiday instead of a binge and the rich got richer in college football over the weekend.

The "Big Three" in the national rankings—Louisiana State, Northwestern and Texas—survived formidable tests, but felt growing pressure from such teams as Mississippi, Syracuse and Penn State, which rang up powerhouse victories.

All of the top 10 teams in the Associated Press poll except 10-ranked Arkansas, crushed 28-0 by fourth-ranked Mississippi, came out on top. Forty-two teams, including nine of major classification, remained unbeaten and untied. And unbelievable Yale kept its goal line uncrossed—the only team in the country boasting such distinction.

Rebels To Test LSU

Mississippi's mighty show of running power and defensive strength against Arkansas placed with added significance to the big game in Baton Rouge, La., next Saturday. Dartmouth shut out day night when the Rebels play Harvard 9-0 and Princeton smashed Cornell 20-0.

It's the football piece de resistance of the year, LSU, with an 18-game winning streak, has squeezed through its last two games, beating Florida Saturday and Ole Miss has been rolling along like a berserk Army tank, piling up tall scores and yielding only seven points in six games.

Lions Whip Illinois Outside of Mississippi's display of muscle, the weekend's most impressive performances came from the once scorned East. Syracuse added to its stature by smothering West Virginia 44-0 with a 589-yard offensive surge, and Penn State, led by quarterback Richie Lucas, toppled Illinois, a proud Big Ten member, 20-9.

Unbeaten and untied, Syracuse is sixth and Penn State eighth in the latest ratings.

The East gained additional prestige in Pennsylvania's 22-22 tie with Navy and Yale's fifth straight shutout victory—a 21-0 decision over Colgate.

Wildcats Trim Irish

Northwestern, No. 2 in the poll, uncovered a new star in John Talley, who threw three touchdowns and ran 61 yards for a fourth score in beating hepped-up Notre Dame 30-24. Texas, No. 3, also got a one-man show from Jack Collins, who ran for two touchdowns and passed for a third in a 28-6 triumph over Rice.

Southern California kept its unmarred record intact by edging Stanford 20-28. Clark Holden scored four touchdowns for the fifth-ranked Trojans, who had to rally in the last half to win.

Georgia Tech Wins

Once-beaten Georgia Tech, No. 9, turned back Tulane 21-13 to continue high among Dixie's bowl possibilities. The only team to win a Friday night game was from Miami (Fla.) 21-6. Army, throwing 37 passes in a urday night.

Rain and fog resulted in postponement of the Cumberland Valley Athletic League football game between the South Hagerstown High School Rebels and the Fredrick Cadets at Hagerstown Saturday night.

The contest is rescheduled for Saturday's clash with the Air Force in New York's Yankee Stadium. The Air Force, beaten only by Oregon, won 20-7 over UCLA Friday night.

Oregon was one of the major unbeaten-untied teams to fall by the wayside. An extra-point kick by George Fleming provided the margin in Washington's 13-12 victory. Arizona State at Tempe lost its first, bowing to San Jose State 24-15.

Texas has the inside track for the Southwest Conference crown and Cotton Bowl bid, but must get by Southern Methodist next Saturday. SMU, 21-13 winner over Texas Tech, was the preseason league favorite.

Northwestern leads the Big Ten but, after an apparently easy test against Indiana next Saturday, must meet three contenders in a row—Wisconsin, Michigan State and Illinois.

Wisconsin edged Ohio State 12-3. Michigan State won over Indiana 14-6. In the traditional battle for the Little Brown Jug, Michigan topped Minnesota 14-6, handing the Gophers their 17th setback in the last 20 games. Purdue topped Iowa 14-7.

The Ivy League title probably will hinge on Yale's game with Penn Nov. 7. In other Ivy games Saturday, Dartmouth shut out Harvard 9-0 and Princeton smashed Cornell 20-0.

Clemson Heads ACC

Clemson, 27-0 winner over South Carolina Thursday, heads the Atlantic Coast Conference, which provides one of the teams in the 9-0. Ole Miss has been rolling along like a berserk Army tank, piling up tall scores and yielding only seven points in six games.

North Carolina State 17-15. Oklahoma won its 74th straight Big Eight Conference game without a defeat but it was a squaker. An extra-point kick by Jim Davis edged Kansas 7-6. With Oklahoma ineligible, Kansas and Missouri, 9-9 winner over Nebraska, are the Orange Bowl bets.

Extra points: Park Punks—Weakley, Beightol's Grocery—Rice.

K. of C. 7 6 0 0—13 Colts 6 0 0 0—6 Touchdowns: K. of C.—Donnie Madden (20 yard pass from Donnie Farrell); Donnie Farrell (40 yard pass from Mickey Clark); Colts—Lanham (10 yard pass from Patton).

Extra points: K. of C.—Donnie Madden.

Old Exports 12 7 14 14—48 Durst's Amoco 0 0 0 0—6 Touchdowns: Old Exports—Smoky Howe (43 yard pass from Fred Meeks, 10 yard pass from George McGregor, 45 yard run); Fred Meeks (5 yard pass from George McGregor, 10 yard run); Bill Eckard (5 yard pass from George McGregor); Dave Ritter (35 yard pass from George McGregor).

Extra points: Old Exports—Downing 2; Reitmeyer 2; Ritter, Fred Meeks.

Leffler To Address Fish Commissioners BALTIMORE (AP)—Game and fish commissioners from 12 southeastern states hold their annual conference here Monday through Wednesday.

Ross L. Leffler, assistant secretary of the interior, will speak at general sessions Monday morning. His topic is "The Need of United Support for Continental Waterfowl Programs."

The association's president is Ernest A. Vaughn, director of Maryland's Game and Inland Fish Department.

St. Mary's vs. St. Patrick's

Jim Hudson and Billy Lueck executed a 60-yard pass play in the second period for the game's only score as St. Mary's Gaels defeated SS. Peter & Paul in a Catholic Youth Football League game yesterday at Maryland.

The victory was the first for the Gaels who now are 1-1-1 and windup their season with St. Patrick's champions next Sunday.

SS. Peter & Paul, co-champions with St. Patrick's last year, failed to score a victory this season. The Fayette Streeters wound up their schedule with two losses and one tie game.

Lueck ran 50 yards for Sunday's touchdown after snaring a 10-yard pass fired by Hudson.

"Butch" Wolfe and Charley Post were outstanding on the line for St. Mary's in yesterday's contest. Mike Madden and Clayton were SS. Peter & Paul standouts.

The score: St. Mary's 6 0 0 0—6 SS. Peter & Paul 0 0 0 0—0 Touchdown: St. Mary's—B. Lueck (pass from J. Hudson).

State Farm Scores Over Bandits, 35-6

Exports Also Notch 4th Straight, 48-0

TOUCH GRID LEAGUE Standing Of The Teams W. L. T. Pts.

State Farm notched its fourth straight win by dumping the Mapleside Bandits out of the unbeaten ranks to the tune of 35-6 in an Adult Touch Football League game yesterday at Penn Avenue.

The Old Exports also made it four wins in a row by lapping Durst's Amoco by the score of 48-0.

In other action Sunday, the Knights of Columbus posted their first win of the season at the expense of the Colts, 7-6, and the Park Punks trimmed Beightol's Grocery, 19-13.

Roy Manges fired five touchdowns in State Farm's triumph and four of the six points were shared by "Buddy" Merritt and Clarence "Pooch" Lewis while Pete Wageley had one to his credit. Lee Neary registered the Bandits' one score in the first period.

George McGregor threw four touchdowns and Fred Meeks tossed one as the Old Exports won and remained tied with State Farm for the league leadership. "Smoky" Howe scored three, once on a 45-yard run, Fred Meeks tallied twice, once on a 10-yard run and Bill Eckard and Dave Ritter chalked up one touchdown each for the Brevets.

Jim Weakley of the Park Punks and Jerry Landis of Beightol's racked up two touchdowns each.

Games scheduled for next Sunday are as follows:

1:00—State Farm vs. Beightol's.

2:00—K. of C. vs. Durst's Amoco.

3:00—Old Exports vs. Mapleside Bandits. 4:00—Colts vs. Park Punks.

Yesterday's summary:

State Farm 14 7 7 7—35 Mapleside Bandits 6 0 0 6—6 Touchdowns: State Farm—Buddy Merritt (20 and 30 yard passes from Roy Manges); "Pooch" Lewis (25 and 20 yard pass from Roy Manges); Pete Wageley (10 yard pass from Roy Manges); Mapleside—Lee Neary (25 yard pass from Ronnie Bruce).

Extra points: State Farm—"Pooch" Lewis 2; Wageley, Cagle, Manges.

K. of C. 7 6 0 0—13 Colts 6 0 0 0—6 Touchdowns: K. of C.—Donnie Madden (20 yard pass from Donnie Farrell); Donnie Farrell (40 yard pass from Mickey Clark); Colts—Lanham (10 yard pass from Patton).

Extra points: K. of C.—Donnie Madden.

Old Exports 12 7 14 14—48 Durst's Amoco 0 0 0 0—6 Touchdowns: Old Exports—Smoky Howe (43 yard pass from Fred Meeks, 10 yard pass from George McGregor, 45 yard run); Fred Meeks (5 yard pass from George McGregor, 10 yard run); Bill Eckard (5 yard pass from George McGregor); Dave Ritter (35 yard pass from George McGregor).

Extra points: Old Exports—Downing 2; Reitmeyer 2; Ritter, Fred Meeks.

Leffler To Address Fish Commissioners BALTIMORE (AP)—Game and fish commissioners from 12 southeastern states hold their annual conference here Monday through Wednesday.

Ross L. Leffler, assistant secretary of the interior, will speak at general sessions Monday morning. His topic is "The Need of United Support for Continental Waterfowl Programs."

The association's president is Ernest A. Vaughn, director of Maryland's Game and Inland Fish Department.

ALL SET—Fred Haney (left), who resigned as manager of the Milwaukee Braves, gets set for his new sports commentator job in Los Angeles, and Charlie Dressen (right) is busy looking over his prospects in Haney's old job. The Braves signed experienced Dressen for two years for a reported $35,000. Haney's KCOP-TV show will be called "Major League Baseball Presents," and will be a video tape of 1959's outstanding games.

Celebrate Freeing

LISBON (UPI)—Nearly 250 motorists rumbled along the main streets of Lisbon Sunday to commemorate the freeing of the city from the Moorish invaders 812 years ago. Celebrations continued in the afternoon with a prize-giving ceremony for municipal employees in the "Terreiro do Paço" square, followed by a fireworks display at night in St. Georges Castle.

Exercise Postponed

TAIPEI (UPI)—A naval exercise involving Philippine, American and Nationalist Chinese ships has been postponed until Wednesday, press reports said Sunday. The exercise, originally scheduled to start Monday, will be held off southern Formosa and will last four days.

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ

Q. 1—As South you hold:

♠ 9 5 ♥ Q 10 7 2 ♦ Q 4 ♣ A K 9 8 3

The bidding has proceeded:

West North East South

Pass 1 ♦ 1 ♠ 2 ♣

Pass 2 ♦ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Three diamonds. Raising with only a doubleton honor may seem a little risky, but is acceptable after partner has rebid his suit when no convenient call is available. Partner may now be in position to try three no trump.

Q. 2—As South you hold:

♥ A 10 5 4 ♦ A K Q 10 5 ♣ K 9 6 4

The bidding has proceeded:

South West North East

1 ♦ Pass 1 ♠ Pass

1 ♠ Pass 1 ♠ Pass

What do you bid now?

A.—Two clubs. Although you are in possession of a fine hand caution should be the byword, since no fit has as yet been established. A rebid of two clubs is best calculated to offer encouragement to partner to continue without crowding the auction.

Q. 3—As South you hold:

♠ A 10 ♥ A Q 10 5 ♦ K 10 6 ♣ A J 5 2

The bidding has proceeded:

South West North East

1 ♠ Double Pass 1 ♠

What do you bid now?

A.—One no trump. The tens make this hand a shade too strong to open with one no trump. When the bid is employed at this juncture, in single-handed competition with the opposition, partner should play you for a very good hand.

Q. 4—As South you hold:

♠ A K 9 ♥ 7 4 ♦ K Q 2 ♣ A Q 9 7 5

The bidding has proceeded:

North East South West

1 ♠ Pass 3 ♣ Pass

3 ♣ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Four diamonds. Your main concern is with the heart situation (partner could have a sound opening bid without either top heart honor) and Blackwood will not help you to the answer. The best procedure is to make a false cue bid of four diamonds and follow it up by overbidding the game in spades. If partner can stop the opponents from winning two heart tricks, he will be able to proceed to a slam on even the barest of minimums.

Q. 5—As South you hold:

♠ 6 3 ♥ 2 ♦ 10 6 3 ♣ A K 10 8 5 4

Your partner opens with one no trump. What is your response?

A.—Three no trump. True, you can't count up to the required 26 points, but the compensating feature of a six card suit headed by the two top honors makes the bid a reasonable speculation. Since partner must not make a one no trump opening without at least the Q x or x x in clubs, chances of turning the entire suit are good.

Q. 6—As South you hold:

♠ K 10 7 4 ♥ 6 3 ♦ K Q J 9 3 1 3

The bidding has proceeded:

North East South West

1 ♠ Pass 1 ♠ Pass

1 ♥ Pass 1 ♠ Pass

1 ♥ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Pass. Partner has shown a minimum type opening and opposite your nine points no game can be in contemplation. You do not have reason to seek a better parking place and a pass is clearly indicated.

Q. 7—As South you hold:

♠ 7 ♥ A Q 10 5 ♦ A J 4 2 ♣ A J 10

The bidding has proceeded:

East South West North

Pass 1 ♥ 2 ♣ Pass

Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Two diamonds. Although chances for game are just about nil since partner was unable to make a free bid, some further competition should be offered to prevent the opponents from making off with a cheap part score. You may succeed in driving them one level higher than they can afford to go.

Q. 8—As South you hold:

♠ 1 2 ♥ A Q J 9 5 2 ♦ Q J 2 ♣ 9 7

The bidding has proceeded:

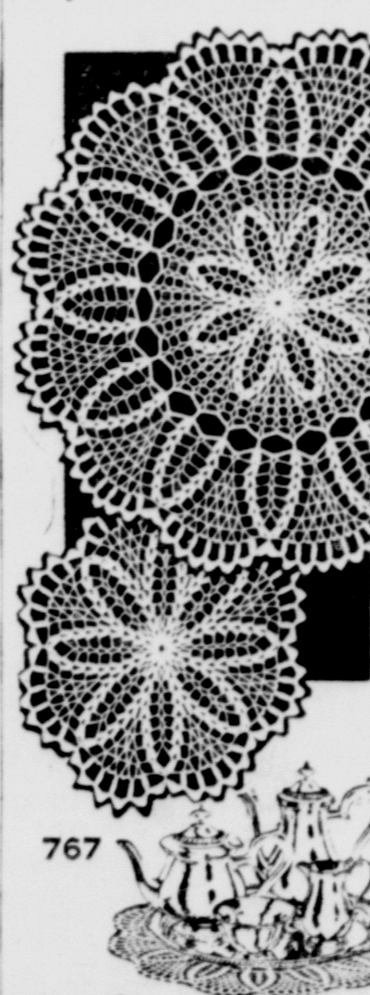

West North East South

Pass Pass Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Three hearts. This holding does not of itself contain the prescribed values for a competitive bid at the three level but, under the circumstances, such action is recommended. West has announced a very weak hand and East did not have enough to go on so your partner is definitely marked with some values. If he has a good fit, there may even be a game in the offing.

Tavern Owner Shot To Death

Constable Slays Friendsville Man

A 40-year-old Friendsville tavern operator, father of seven children, was shot and killed early yesterday in a tussle with the town constable in front of the victim's place of business.

George Raymond Schroyer, 40, died almost instantly from a bullet wound in the right side of his head.

Garrett County authorities said the shot was fired by Ronald W. "Pete" Guard, 51, constable at Friendsville, who told them he was trying to break up a fight between Schroyer and another man.

At Tavern Entrance

The shooting occurred about 12:15 a. m. at the entrance to the tavern which formerly was occupied by the Veterans of Foreign Wars of Friendsville.

Sheriff James W. Frantz said Constable Guard was traveling past the Schroyer place of business about 11:30 p. m. Saturday on his way home from duty.

A scuffle between Jerry DeWitt and Thomas Schroyer, who police said may be related to the dead man, attracted the town officer's attention and he stepped in to stop the fight, Sheriff Frantz related.

The constable apparently stayed at the tavern to see that there was no more trouble and was outside the entrance when George Schroyer and Ray Coddington, also of Friendsville, wrestled through the doorway.

Believing another fight was ensuing, Constable Guard stepped in to halt the trouble, the sheriff said, and in the melee his .38 calibre revolver went off, the bullet striking Schroyer in the right temple.

Investigating officers said there were three or four eyewitnesses to the shooting, but that several conflicting stories have been told and the investigation is continuing.

"Horsing Around"

Police were told that Coddington and Schroyer were not fighting, but were just "acting a fool" and "horsing around."

Guard is being held in Garrett County Jail in Oakland and was questioned extensively yesterday. Witnesses to the shooting also were questioned by police who spent all day yesterday attempting to delve into the facts behind the slaying.

No charges have been placed against Guard pending further investigation of the case, Sheriff Frantz stated.

Mr. Schroyer was a son of Myrtle (Loudermilk) Schroyer and the late Simon L. Schroyer. He was born in Garrett County on January 23, 1919, and was a veteran of World War II, serving in the European Theatre with the 45th Infantry Division.

Mr. Schroyer was a member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of Terra Alta and the American Legion post at Oakland.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Violet (Thomas) Schroyer; his mother; and seven sons, Cpl. Jackie Schroyer, U. S. Marine Corps, Okinawa; Clifford, Melvin, Dale, Duane, Larry and Vernon Schroyer, all at home.

A brother, Karol Schroyer, Mt. Lake Park; and a sister, Mrs. Joanne Sisler, Friendsville, also survive.

The body is at the Leighton Funeral Home.

LaSalle Grads Hold Dinner

Members of the Class of 1942 of LaSalle High School held their annual stag dinner Saturday at the Cas Taylor Restaurant.

Francis Mullan and Donald Palmer were co-chairmen of the event which was attended by 11 members of the class.

Attending from out of town were John P. Moffatt, Salisbury; James Castner, Springfield, Va., and Philip Minke and Ned Stapleton, Washington.

Plans were made to hold the dinners in Washington on alternate years, as about 45 per cent of the members live in the Washington-Baltimore area.

The 1960 meeting will be held the last Saturday in October in the Washington area, with Minke, Stapleton and Moffatt serving as the planning committee.

Also attending the session here were Edwin Hunt, Paul Weisenmiller, Eugene Natale, Edward McMahon and Thomas F. Conlon Jr.

Girl, 17, Hurt In Crash On Dingle Hill

Barbara Himes Thrown From Car

A 17-year-old Cumberland girl was critically injured yesterday morning in a two-car collision on U. S. Route 220, just inside the city limits on Dingle Hill.

Barbara Himes, 5 Miltenberger Place, remained unconscious at Sacred Heart Hospital last night from serious head and internal injuries received in the accident which occurred about 12:30 a. m.

City Police said the girl apparently was thrown through the rear door window of a car driven by her uncle, Roger H. Norris, 37, of 520 Dryer Avenue, when the vehicle collided with another operated by George S. Evans, 37, of Star Route 1, Keyser.

Officer Harold Gibson said Norris was traveling north toward Cumberland at an apparent high rate of speed. His automobile, occupied by his mother, Mrs. Zellene Norris, and Miss Himes, was traveling in the middle lane of the highway, police said.

Norris apparently lost control of the car and it swerved into the Evans car headed south and descending the grade of the hill. Officer Gibson, who investigated along with Officer William Norris, said.

The rear of the Cumberland man's vehicle struck the front of the Evans automobile, then continued across the highway to a 24-inch deep drainage ditch about 13 feet from the point of impact.

The car hopped the ditch, went between a utility pole and a supporting guy wire for another 100 feet where the girl was thrown to the ground, then came to a stop about 55 feet further away.

Police said the victim was found unconscious, lying face down with part of her clothing torn away. She was taken to the hospital by police. They said the shattered window glass indicated she apparently had been thrown with considerable force through the glass from the rear seat where she had been riding.

There was about $900 damage to the two vehicles although none of the other occupants of the cars was injured.

Charges have been withheld pending completion of the police investigation and the outcome of the girl's injuries.

Nine Area Firemen On State Committees

Nine firemen belonging to the Allegany-Garrett Counties Volunteer Firemen's Association were in College Park Saturday and yesterday for a meeting of the State Firemen's Association executive board.

William A. Wilson, Midland, is the state treasurer of the association. John S. Prichard, Grantsville, is a member of the board of trustees.

Mr. Prichard and seven others also are on state committees. They are Alvin Rankin, Frostburg, executive committee; Homer Ambrose, McCool, fire prevention bureau; Cromwell C. Zembower, LaVale, firemen's training; William Smith Jr., Luke, and George F. Comp Jr., Deer Park, both legislative; Francis Fatkin, Clarysville, statistical; Mr. Prichard, safe deposit box, and David E. Kirk, Bowling Green, chairman of the constitution and by-laws.

Tour Planned

Today is the deadline for Allegany County poultry producers to let County Agent Joseph M. Steger know they are planning to participate in the poultry tour into nearby Somerset County, Pa., Wednesday.

Between 15 and 20 persons had indicated earlier their plans to attend. The group will leave in cars from the Court House.

Church Cornerstone Is Placed

The cornerstone for the new sanctuary of the Grace Baptist Church is placed at ceremonies held yesterday at noon at the Greene Street church site. Russell G. Robeson, local building contractor, (second from right), sets the new cornerstone in place with the assistance of Rev. W. Randolph Keefer Jr., pastor of the church. Looking on at left is Fern E. Wilson, chairman of the church building committee, and at the right is Joseph K. Trenton, chairman of the finance committee. The new building will cost approximately $115,000. Sealed with the cornerstone are a history of the church; historical notes, a Holy Bible, a hymnal, minutes of the Western Baptist Association, a program of the association, The Maryland Baptist magazine, the church roll, a list of the church officers, a church bulletin, several newspapers and clippings and pictures of the deacons, trustees, choir, church officers and girls auxiliary coronation. Completion is expected by mid-summer.

Non-Farm Job Picture Dips In Maryland

The Maryland Department of Employment Security placed fewer persons in non-farm jobs over the state in September than in either August this year or September last year.

Robert B. Kimble, executive director, said the decline followed the seasonal pattern, but was slightly greater than seasonal because this summer's dry weather damaged crops and curtailed hiring in the food-processing industry. Also in September, style changeovers kept hiring to a minimum in the apparel industry.

In addition, there has been a note of caution in the hiring plans of many employers as a result of production uncertainty stemming from the steel strike.

Despite these influences, the Department's non-farm placements increased moderately in Baltimore in September, again in accordance with seasonal trends. The Department placed 5,306 persons in non-farm jobs over the state in September, down 10.4 per cent from the 5,925 of August and 13.7 per cent from the 6,148 of September, 1958.

Employers listed 7,039 openings with the Department during the month, down 4.5 per cent from the 7,367 of August and 4.9 per cent from the 7,404 of September, 1958.

The total number of openings available in September—the sum of those received during the month and those unfilled as of the last day of the previous month—was 9,618, down 0.9 per cent from the 9,701 of August and one per cent from the 9,719 of September, 1958.

Meeting Scheduled

The regular meeting of the Baltimore Pike 4-H Club will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Ware Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock.

Commission Studies Plans For University Expansion

Governor J. Millard Tawes' commission on the problem of expansion at the University of Maryland, which includes one local attorney, has been divided into four subcommittees to study particular phases of the larger problem.

William L. Wilson is one of the 12 members of the commission which is headed by Edwin Warfield III, editor of the Daily Record newspaper and a Howard County civic and farm leader.

1,000 Maryland Claimants May Get VA Pension

Approximately 1,000 new claimants in Maryland will become eligible for pensions on the effective date of the Veterans Pension Act, July 1, 1960, Samuel Weston, in charge of the local Veterans Administration office here, said yesterday. Many of these new claimants are from this area, he noted.

Of these, some 700 are widows and children of veterans of World War II and the Korean War who will be eligible since the new law deals with them in the same manner as widows and children of World War I veterans. About 300 will be living veterans, widows and children made eligible by the increases in income limitations, Mr. Weston noted.

The VA representative urged that those who are eligible or believe they might be eligible, obtain information at his office on the third floor of the Post Office Building here. However, he recommends that no formal applications be filed until after February 1, 1960, since the VA is busy during December and January with income statements for those already receiving pensions. He also noted that in many cases, claimants or applicants will be better able to estimate their 1960 income in the new year.

Two Key Factors

These factors are the necessity of the state university to supply higher educational facilities for young men and women of college ability at a cost which is not excessive and at the same time doing so in the most economical manner possible.

Under one of the ideas advanced to the commission has been the possibility of making Frostburg State Teachers College and the other similar institutions branches of the University of Maryland.

Other members of the commission are State Senator Edward O. Weant, Carroll County; Dr. Edward F. Cotter, Baltimore physician; Mrs. Henry R. Granger, Somerset County farmer and teacher of vocational agriculture, and Dr. Walter Hastings Jr., Cambridge veterinarian.

Randolph told the gathering "the college student has a challenging

Driver Dies When Moving Van Crashes

Truck Wrecks On Cheat Mountain

The driver of a huge moving van was killed yesterday afternoon when he lost control of his vehicle near the foot of Cheat Mountain on U.S. Route 50 in West Virginia.

Percy Harris, Newport News, Va., died of a broken neck when he was thrown from the van as it crashed into a tree and overturned while he was descending the three-mile grade, near Aurora, W. Va.

West Virginia State Police from Kingwood said the truck apparently failed to negotiate a curve at the foot of the mountain and crashed into the yard of the Clarence Watson home.

Authorities said there have been several accidents at that point and the Watson home had just recently been moved back from the highway because it had been struck in the past by vehicles coming off the mountain.

The van was loaded with furniture, police said, and its contents were scattered over the area and highway. The van was demolished.

Justice of the Peace F. W. Pritts, Preston County coroner, ruled the death as accidental and said no inquest will be held.

The moving van was headed west when the accident occurred about 2 p.m. yesterday.

Trooper W. Z. Sparks of the West Virginia State Police is investigating.

The driver's body is at the Browning Funeral Home in Kingwood.

Class Donates Cash To Church

The Win-A-Couple Class of the Grace Baptist Church met last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Grant in Cresaptown and voted to give a cash donation to the church nursery department for the purchase of toys for the youngsters.

The class also decided to help sponsor one of the "Baptist Hour" programs presented every Sunday over the Frostburg radio station.

Brice Weese presided at the business meeting. Mrs. Russell V. Bittner gave the opening prayer and Mrs. Grant presented the devotions.

After the business session a social hour was held and refreshments were served. Attending the meeting were Mr. and Mrs. Weese, Wallace Merrick, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Keel, Miss Mary Hannah Kolb, Mrs. Richard Kincaid, Mrs. Eugene Swanson, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Miller, Mrs. Bittner, Mrs. George DeVore, Mr. and Mrs. Grant and Barbara Grant.

The next meeting will be held November 5, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Weese on Bedford Road. It will be in the form of a Hobo Party at which time members will re-varnish nursery chairs.

O'Neill Rites Set Wednesday

A Requiem Mass for Michael Francis O'Neill Jr., 50, of 209 Piedmont Avenue, will be held Wednesday at 9 a. m. in St. Patrick's Catholic Church.

Rt. Rev. Msgr. J. Lawrence Kilkenny, pastor, will be the celebrant and burial will be in St. Peter and Paul Cemetery.

Mr. O'Neill, owner and operator of the Cumberland News Company, 401 North Mechanic Street, died Saturday night in Sacred Heart Hospital, where he had been a patient since October 7. He had been ill for some time.

A native of this city, he was born on August 19, 1909, a son of Mrs. Margaret German O'Neill, of 217 Fayette Street, and the late Michael Francis O'Neill.

Mr. O'Neill was widely known in the tri-state area as his company served as district distributor for a number of national magazines and metropolitan papers.

He succeeded his father as owner of the Cumberland News Company upon the latter's death in 1952. The company has been in continuous operation here for more than half a century.

Mr. O'Neill was graduated from LaSalle High School in 1928 and was a member of Cumberland Council 586, Knights of Columbus, Chief Justice Taney, General Assembly, Fourth Degree, and St. Patrick's Catholic Church. He was also a member of Cumberland Aerie 245, F. O. Eagles.

He was also a member of Cumberland Lodge 63, Elks, and was a past exalted ruler of the lodge. He joined the Elks in 1938.

Besides his mother, he is survived by his widow, Mrs. Christine (Lewis) O'Neill; a brother, William O'Neill, of Baltimore, and a sister, Mrs. Mary Catherine Kearney, of Charlotte, N. C.

The body is at the Stein Funeral Home, where friends will be received from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p. m.

The Rosary will be recited tomorrow at 7:30 p. m. by the K of C and St. Patrick's Church. The Elks ritualistic service will follow at 8 p. m. and the Eagles will hold a service at 8:30 p. m.
